- Many people think that the activities of traditional festivals are not innovative enough. In this event, teacher combined games and activities to promote the excellent traditional Chinese cultural education, such as dragon boat races and making fragrant sachets, making rice dumplings with children, watching the video of making rice dumplings for the Dragon Boat Festival, and bring a rice dumpling home to share with their family. From the observations, the children are actively involved, experience and share the joy of the festival, and have a sense of identity with traditional festivals. During the activity, teacher encourages them to continue to inherit because inherit is the key traditional culture of our country, and cherish the caring relationship with their families, relatives and friends during the festival feelings.
